

Burgundy Information Services to represent BioOne

11th July 2019

Oxford, UK - Specialising in the development and implementation of effective sales strategies for publishers and content aggregators, Burgundy Information Services is pleased to announce a new partnership with BioOne. In this new partnership, Burgundy will expand the reach of their flagship product, BioOne Complete, to libraries and information centres throughout the UK, Ireland, Benelux, Nordics, Baltics, Central Europe, Russia, Israel, South Africa, Australia and New Zealand.

BioOne Complete is the full-text database of over 200 high quality, subscribed and open-access titles focused in the biological, ecological, and environmental sciences. For subscribing libraries, BioOne Complete offers a cost-effective, curated collection of independently-published journals. 81% of subscribed titles have Impact Factors, and more than 40% of the collection's titles are available online exclusively in BioOne Complete.

Speaking of the new agreement, Burgundy Director, Paul Calow, commented, "We are delighted to be collaborating with BioOne, helping to increase the visibility of more than 1.5 million pages of critical research in biological, ecological and environmental sciences across a wide-reaching territory whilst also supporting independent and not-for-profit publishing."

"BioOne will continue to deliver on its mission through our partnership with Burgundy Information Services," confirmed BioOne President & CEO Susan Skomal. "Providing affordable access to high quality research has been BioOne's guiding principle for the past twenty years, and we are confident that Burgundy will enhance this endeavor."

About BioOne

<http://www.bioonepublishing.org/>

BioOne was founded in 1999 by both library and publisher interests to address the inequities posed by commercial journal publishing. Two decades later, BioOne remains committed to meeting library, publisher, and researcher needs through a growing portfolio of products and services. BioOne's unique business model is designed to reinvest precious library funds in scientific communication, and has returned over US$45M to its participating publishers to date.
